SECTION A: READING COMPREHENSION,

Q1) Read the given passage and answer the following questions:

Today's woman is a highly self-directed person, alive to the sense of her dignity and the importance of her functions in the private domestic domain and the public domain of the world of work. Women are rational in approach, careful in handling situations and want to do things as best as possible. The Fourth World Conference of Women held in Beijing in September 1995 had emphasized that no enduring solution of society's most threatening social, economic and political problems could be found without the participation and empowerment of the women. The 1995 World Summit for Social Development had also emphasised the pivotal role of women in eradicating poverty and mending the social fabric.

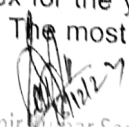

The Constitution of India had conferred on women equal rights and opportunities political, social, educational and of employment with men. Because of oppressive traditions, superstitions, exploitation and corruption, a majority of women are not allowed to enjoy the rights and opportunities, bestowed on them. One of the major reasons for this state of affairs is the lack of literacy and awareness among women. Education is the main instrument through which we can narrow down the prevailing inequality and accelerate the process of economic and political change in the status of women.

The role of women in a society is very important. Women's education is the key to a better life in the future. A recent World Bank study says that educating girls is not a charity, it is good economics and if developing nations are to eradicate poverty, they must educate the girls. The report says that the economic and social returns on investment in education of the girls considerably affect the human development index of the nation. Society would progress only if the status of women is respected and the presence of an educated woman in the family would ensure education of the family itself. Education and empowerment of women are closely related.

Women's education has not received due care and attention from the planners and policymakers. The National Commission for Women has rightly pointed out that even after 50 years of independence, women continue to be treated as the single largest group of backward citizens of India. The role of women in overall development has not been fully understood nor has it been given its full weight in the struggle to eliminate poverty, hunger, injustice and inequality at the national level. Even when we are at the threshold of the 21st century, our society still discriminates against women in matters of their rights and privileges and prevents them from participating in the process of national and societal progress.

Various Committees and Commissions have been constituted before and after the independence to evaluate the progress in women's education and to suggest ways and means to enhance the status of women. The female literacy rate has gone up in the 20th century from 0.6 per cent in 1901 to 39.29 per cent in 1991 but India still possesses the largest number of illiterate women in the world. The female literacy index for the year 1991 shows that there are eight States which fall below the national average. The most populous States of the country, UP, MP, Bihar and Rajasthan fall in the category of most backward States as far as female literacy is concerned.

The prevailing cultural norms of gender behaviour and the perceived domestic and reproductive roles of women tend to affect the education of girls. Negative attitude towards sending girls to schools, restrictions on their mobility, early marriage, poverty and illiteracy of parents affect the girl's participation in education.

Women's political empowerment got a big boost with the Panchayati Raj Act of 1993 which gave them 30 per cent reservation in Village Panchayats, Block Samities and Zila Parishads throughout the country. The National Commission for Women was also set up in 1992 to act as a lobby for women's issues.

The educational system is the only institution which can counteract the deep foundations of inequality of sexes that are built in the minds of people through the socialization process. Education is the most important instrument of human resource development. Educational system should be used to revolutionize the traditional attitudes and inculcate new values of equality.

A REPORT ON VOCABULARY BUILDING & LANGUAGE GROWTH

A key component of literacy instruction is vocabulary, which is defined as the understanding of words and includes their morphology, syntax, meanings, and connections to other words (word/semantic relationships). To grasp and create more complex texts, as well as to engage in oral language for a range of social reasons, children require a wide vocabulary that expands via language and literacy experiences. It is helpful to concentrate on vocabulary development when gaining knowledge and proficiency in many linguistic and literacy domains. This involves aiding with understanding, fluency, and decoding (phonemic awareness and phonics). A robust vocabulary improves all areas of communication — listening, speaking, reading and writing.

The college authorities have taken the initiative of developing an Add-On Course on Vocabulary Building & Language Growth for the students, the targeted audience being B. Pharm (I, II, III, IV), total credit hours being 40 hours. The course was developed by in-house faculty of the institution, Mr. Aniruddha Lahiri, for the betterment of the students. The classes were conducted regularly in offline mode on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6pm-8pm. The course was developed with the objective of enhancing communication skills and vocabulary building of the students. Classes on Verbal Aptitude were conducted where the students rigorously practiced English Grammar and other language components to improve themselves. Classes were also conducted on Listening Skills where students were imparted knowledge about the different types of listening, the importance of listening, how is listening related to speaking and writing. Certain activities on listening skills like listening comprehension, audio listening, miscommunication was also conducted. Training was also provided for Speaking and Reading Skills. Regular sessions on Group Discussion, Debate, Extempore, Just a Minute Session, Presentation, Picture Reading, Comprehension, News and Bulletin Reading were conducted for the students.

A special emphasis was given on the development of Writing Skills of the Students as writing is the primary basis upon which one's learning and intellect will be judged. Writing skill equips one with communication and thinking skills and also fosters one's ability to explain and refine their ideas to others and themselves. Writing skills are an important part of communication. Good writing skill allows one to communicate their message with clarity and ease to a far larger audience than through face to face or telephone conversations. Report Writing, Resume Writing, Minutes of the Meeting, Notice, Agenda, Memo, Thesis Writing, Letters of Different types were taught in the classes for the benefit of the students.

After the completion of the syllabus, an examination was conducted after which the students were awarded with certificates. After the completion of the course, it was found that the students were able to enhance their speaking skills, could build their vocabulary by learning new terminologies and by successfully using them in different aspects. The course also helped the students to prepare themselves partly for different competitive examinations. The classes were conducted regularly in offline mode on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6pm-8pm. Total number of students enrolled for the course was 65. 75% of attendance was mandatory for receiving the certificate. And all the registered students successfully completed the course maintaining all the criteria.
