1:00-1:30 pm- Women Equality Parade
(Venue: NOAA)

1:30-2:30 PM- Documentary on Women Equality
(Venue: APC Roy Seminar Hall)

Women and girls represent half of the world's population and, therefore, also half of its potential. Gender equality, besides being a fundamental human right, is essential to achieve peaceful societies, with full human potential and sustainable development. Moreover, it has been shown that empowering women spurs productivity and economic growth. Unfortunately, there is still a long way to go to achieve full equality of rights and opportunities between men and women, warns UN Women.

It is of paramount importance to end the multiple forms of gender violence and secure equal access to quality education and health, economic resources and participation in political life for both women and girls and men and boys. It is also essential to achieve equal opportunities in access to employment and to positions of leadership and decision-making at all levels. The UN Secretary-General, Mr. Antonio Guterres has stated that achieving gender equality and empowering women and girls is the unfinished business of our time, and the greatest human rights challenge in our world. Women's Equality Day, celebrated every August 26, commemorates the passage of women's suffrage in the U.S. and reminds us of the hurdles overcome by the heroic women who faced violence and discrimination to propel the women's movement forward.

Dr. B.C. Roy College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences also celebrated Women's Equality Day on 26th August, 2022 in Netaji Open Air Auditorium. The program started with the arrival of the Director, Prof. Dr. S. Chakraborty, the Principal, Prof. Dr. S. Ray and the Registrar, Mr. S. Sengupta, followed by a short addressing speech by the Director. The speech was followed by a Parade where students holding banners came forward in order to spread awareness related to gender equality. The college corridors were full of students and teachers who were witnessing this wonderful event.

The first video was 'A Ted Talk' by Lilly Singh; the second video was 'A Global History of Women's Rights' followed by the third video named 'Equal Half'. A REPORT ON TECHNICAL EVENT/WORLD LITERACY DAY
CONDUCTED ON 08.09.2022 AT APC ROY SEMINAR HALL

Education is important for individual growth and for the progress of society as a whole. To acknowledge and celebrate the importance of literacy, World Literacy Day is celebrated on 8th September. The main aim of observing this day is to focus on spreading awareness among people regarding the importance of literacy. Literacy not only teaches people the ability to think independently and make decisions based on what is right and what's not, but also serves as a powerful tool. Knowledge is the basic right of every individual and each and every person residing in the world must get access to education.

The origin of this day is linked to the World Conference of the Ministers of Education in Tehran in 1965. On October 26, 1966, UNESCO declared International Literacy Day to be celebrated on 8th September every year. The decision was taken because many countries across the world faced serious issues including illiteracy, poverty, unemployment, and inadequate health care in the 1960s and 70s. Therefore, in order to educate the people and empower them, it was decided that a day like World Literacy Day will be celebrated annually. On this day, UNESCO organizes different events in different countries in collaboration with educational institutions, civil society organizations and voluntary groups.

In 2022, the theme for World Literacy Day is “Transforming Literacy Learning Spaces.” According to UNESCO, this theme will serve as an opportunity to rethink the fundamental importance of literacy and learning spaces to build resilience and ensure quality, equitable, and inclusive education for all. Dr. B.C. Roy College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences also observed World Literacy Day, under the NSS wing of the Institution. A book donation camp was conducted by the NSS wing where books and stationeries were donated to the needy, in the presence of the Director, Prof. Dr. S. Chakraborty, the Principal, Prof. Dr. S. Ray, the Registrar, Sri Sagar Sengupta and the Management, the venue being Netaji Open Air Auditorium. The second phase of the program consisted of an essay writing competition where the students actively and enthusiastically participated. During the third phase, a book reading session was conducted at APC Roy Seminar Hall for the students and the faculties which was also a successful venture. The observation of the World Literacy Day ended with a vote of thanks by the NSS Program Officer, Mrs. Rituparna Ghosh Chaki, followed by the distribution of stationeries to the students.

A REPORT ON CULTURAL EVENT/BISWAKARMA PUJA

A REPORT ON NSS/WORLD PEACE DAY

CONDUCTED ON 21.09.2022 AT NETAJI OPEN AIR AUDITORIUM

The International Day of Peace (“Peace Day”) is observed around the world each year on 21 September. Established in 1981 by unanimous United Nations resolution, Peace Day provides a globally shared date for all humanity to commit to Peace above all differences and to contribute to building a Culture of Peace. But achieving true peace entails much more than laying down arms. It requires the building of societies where all members feel that they can flourish. It involves creating a world in which people are treated equally, regardless of their race.

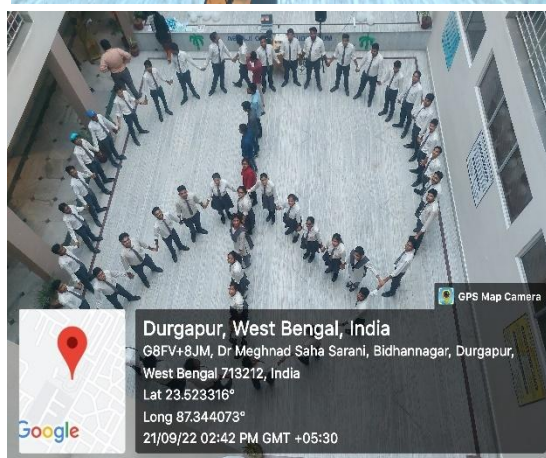

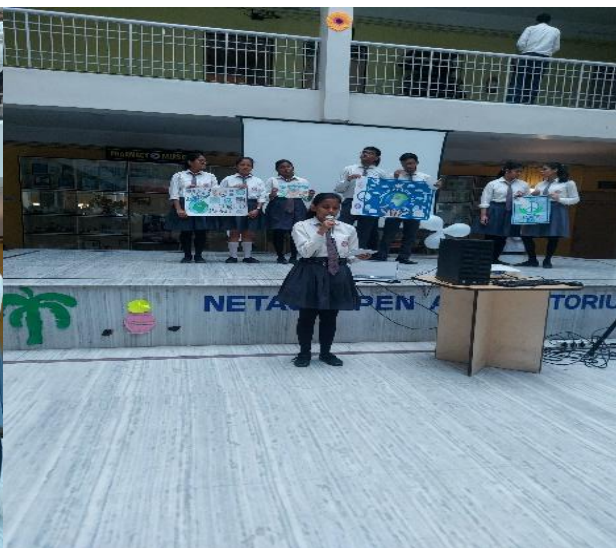

As Secretary-General Antonio Guterres has said, “Racism continues to poison institutions, social structures, and everyday life in every society. It continues to be a driver of persistent inequality. And it continues to deny people their fundamental human rights. It destabilizes societies, undermines democracies, erodes the legitimacy of governments, and... the linkages between racism and gender inequality are unmistakable.”

As conflicts continue to erupt across the globe, causing people to flee, we have seen race-based discrimination at borders. As COVID-19 keeps attacking our communities, we have seen how certain racial groups have been hit much harder than others. As economies suffer, we have seen hate speech and violence directed at racial minorities. We all have a role to play in fostering peace. And tackling racism is a crucial way to contribute. We can work to dismantle the structures that entrench racism in our midst. We can support movements for equality and human rights everywhere. We can speak out against hate speech – both offline and online. We can promote anti-racism through education and reparatory justice.

Dr. B.C. Roy College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences also successfully observed the International Peace Day. The event was inaugurated by the Director of the institution, Prof. Dr. S. Chakraborty, in the presence of the Principal, the Registrar, the faculty members, all the staffs and the students. The students performed a peace rally where they came up with different placards and posters on showing the importance of Peace and Peace Day. The students also performed a peace circle depicting unity and peace. The program ended with a vote of thanks delivered by the Registrar, Shri Sagar Sengupta, followed by a song sung by him.

Dr. B.C. Roy College and Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences was glad to have Dr. Anurupa Ganguly with us. She is great psychologist and counselor at the Mission Hospital, Durgapur. She discussed about the overwhelming emotions that people face on a daily basis, and not every day we feel confident about ourselves. Some days are sunny while the others are a struggle.

We refuse to communicate because it would only result in more confrontation and emotions are difficult to handle. Shut it all in, refuse to speak out our thoughts and build walls around us, expecting the problems to disappear? By the end of the interactive session, students agreed to be more honest with them, let people love them in their own respective languages and not be afraid to be vulnerable.

Students felt satisfied that amidst all the anxiety, they were hopeful; amidst all the tears, all must choose to give themselves a chance to smile again; and against all odds, they should arise. The remarkable works of our Psychologist may be helpful to change the mindset of our first year students. Lastly, our guest was presented with an 'Uttariya' and a gift as a token of goodwill from BCRCP family.

According to a 2020 report by corruption watchdog Transparency International, India has the highest bribery rate in Asia and the most number of people who use personal connections to access public services. The Global Corruption Barometer (GCB) – Asia, found that nearly 50 per cent of those who paid bribes were asked to, while 32 per cent of those who used personal connections said they would not receive the service otherwise. Bribery in public services continues to plague India. Slow and complicated bureaucratic processes, unnecessary red tape and unclear regulatory frameworks force citizens to seek out alternate solutions to access basic services through networks of familiarity and petty corruption, the report stated. As of 2020, India stands at the 86th spot on the corruption perception index among a list of 180 countries. This is worse than 2019 when India stood at the 80th spot. Despite several efforts by successive state and national governments, corruption continues to be a scourge for the nation. Promoting International Mother Language Day is a worldwide annual observance held on 21 February to promote awareness of linguistic and cultural diversity and to promote multilingualism. First announced by UNESCO on 17 November 1999, it was formally recognized by the United Nations General Assembly with the adoption of UN resolution 56/262 in 2002. Mother Language Day is part of a broader initiative "to promote the preservation and protection of all languages used by peoples of the world" as adopted by the UN General Assembly on 16 May 2007 in UN resolution 61/266, which also established 2008 as the International Year of Languages. The idea to celebrate International Mother Language Day was the initiative of Bangladesh. In Bangladesh, 21 February is the anniversary of the day when the people of Bangladesh (then East Bengal of Pakistan) fought for recognition for the Bengali language. It is observed all over the world. The faculty, students and staffs of Dr. B.C. Roy College of Pharmacy & Allied Health Sciences also observed International Mother Language Day (Matribhasa Dibos) at Netaji Open Air Auditorium. ## A REPORT ON WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

CELEBRATED ON 5TH JUNE, 2023 AT NETAJI OPEN AIR AUDITORIUM

DR. B. C. ROY COLLEGE OF PHARMACY & AHS DURGAPUR

Observed

World Environment Day

Theme : "Beat Plastic Pollution"

*05th June, 2023,
Venue: APC Roy Seminar Hall*

World Environment Day (WED) is celebrated annually on 5 June and encourages awareness and action for the protection of the environment. It is supported by many non-governmental organizations, businesses, government entities, and represents the primary United Nations outreach day supporting the environment. First held in 1973, it has been a platform for raising awareness on environmental issues as marine pollution, overpopulation, global warming, sustainable development and wildlife crime. World Environment Day is a global platform for public outreach, with participation from over 143 countries annually. Each year, the program has provided a theme and forum for businesses, non-government organizations, communities, governments and celebrities to advocate environmental causes. World Environment Day was established in 1972 by the United Nations at the Stockholm Conference on the Human Environment (5–16 June 1972), that had resulted from discussions on the integration of human interactions and the environment.

The World Environment Day theme for 2023 is "Solution to plastic pollution" and the event was hosted by Côte d'Ivoire. It is a reminder that people's actions on plastic pollution matters. The steps governments and businesses are taking to tackle plastic pollution are the consequence of this action. It is time to accelerate this action and transition to a circular economy.

The Management, teaching and non-teaching staffs and the students of Dr. B.C. Roy College of Pharmacy & Allied Health Sciences also observed World Environment Day on 5th of June, 2023 at APC Roy Seminar Hall. The program began with the welcoming of the dignitaries in the dais. Prof. Dr. S. Chakraborty addressed the audience, especially the students with a motivating talk on “How can one contribute to save environment from getting polluted and also the role of pharmacists in the protection of environment”. The address of the Director was followed by the address of the Principal, Prof. Dr. S. K. Samanta, who also spoke on the different environmental issues that are emerging these days and how the use of plastic is affecting the environment. Mr. Sagar Sengupta made a very significant and interesting contribution. He mentioned how the dumping of the industrial wastes in the river Yamuna has resulted in the depletion of marine ecosystem and also how dumping of plastic wastes in water bodies has affected marine life. He also spoke about how the industries releases harmful chemical in open environment whenever they get a chance and cause environmental pollution. He also stated that human beings and the use of plastic go hand in hand, and that, since human beings are dependent on the use of plastics, we have to take special care so that it doesn't pollute the environment. Prof. Dr. S. Ray, Professor-in-Charge, P.G. & Research, also made a significant contribution. He explained how plastics enter into the food chain and affects the health of humans. Students were shown videos on how plastics are affecting the lives of the people in general and how plastics can be recycled.

Dr. Souvik Basak, DIC Pharmaceutical Chemistry & Analysis, spoke on the Management of Plastic waste through microbial cell factory, investigations for a greener but efficient technology, where he explained that Microbial cell factory for biocatalysis often serves as an alternate tool for efficient but greener management of the particular reaction and that they have exploited this tool in their laboratory for management of solid plastic waste. Specific biomedical plastics have been targeted for bioremediation where relevant microbes have been isolated from the same and subjected to programmed bioremediation of the same. The immobilization and other microbial engineering have been adapted to upregulate the plastic degradation efficiency of the cell, which in turn were revealed to have a significant impact over the rate of the reaction. Till date's study, the microbes look safe in animal model with respect to their virulence, not exhibiting much toxicological manifestations in short term basis. It is also imminent that microbes have plastic degradation enzyme that might have potential biomedical applications such as wound healing. The students of the institution also conducted a cleanliness drive where they collected all the plastic and other wastes to make the college and in turn the environment clean. The program ended with a general note on how human beings can help in reducing plastic wastes and make the world a better place to live in.
