SEMINAR REPORT

1. On 20th July 2023, Dr. B. C. Roy College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences organized an engaging seminar on the topic "Role of DOE in Contemporary Research Methodology". The seminar was graced by Dr. Biswanath Bhunia, Assistant Professor in the Department of Biotechnology at NIT Agartala, Tripura (W), who is an expert in the application of Design of Experiments (DOE) in research.
2. With 135 participants in attendance, the seminar proved to be both informative and interactive, providing deep insights into the role of DOE in enhancing the rigor and efficiency of contemporary research.
3. The seminar concluded with a recap of the importance of Design of Experiments (DOE) in improving the reliability, efficiency, and quality of research outcomes. Dr. Bhunia's presentation was highly informative, providing participants with both foundational knowledge and advanced techniques for implementing DOE in their own work. The session encouraged participants to explore the power of DOE as a systematic approach to experimentation, leading to more meaningful and reproducible research.
