Roles and Responsibilities of Advisors

The mission of academic advising is to assist students in their growth and development by constructing meaningful educational plans which are compatible with their life goals. It is a continuous and consistent process which is built upon the basis of frequent, accumulated personal contacts between advisor and advisee. Effective academic advising is the cornerstone of the academic program of High Point University. Excellent academic programs will not accomplish the desired end result if students are not properly guided and counseled.

Roles and Responsibilities of Advisors

The advisor's role is an active rather than a passive one and the process of advising requires the following objectives to be met for each student assigned as an advisee:

- Help students define and develop realistic educational career plans through schedule planning for each semester and summer school, if appropriate. Each student should have an up-to-date academic schedule plan through to graduation.
- (Fresher advisees) Meet with advisee during orientation to assist student with initial adjustment to Institute academic life. Special sessions should be scheduled throughout the first academic year.
- (For continuing advisees) Meet at least once each month with continuing students to plan for the coming semester and to review/revise long range academic program schedules.
- Assist students in planning a program consistent with their abilities and interests.
- Monitor progress toward educational/career goals and meet at least once each month to review the progress toward completing the proposed academic program and to discuss grades and other performance indicators.
- Discuss and reinforce linkages and relationships between instructional program and occupation/career.
- Interpret and provide rationale for institutional policies, procedures, and requirements.
- Follow-up with the advisee on any report of unsatisfactory work (notice of class probation for poor attendance, notice of FA and/or failing grades, incomplete grades from past semester(s), etc.). Special attention should be paid to students who are weak in their studies.

Principal, M. Pharm, Ph.D.

- Approve all designated educational transactions (e.g., pre-registration/registration schedule, drops/adds, withdrawals, change of elective and graduation requirements, etc.).
- Try to make informal out-of-class/office contacts to underscore personal interest in the student as an individual.
- Maintain an up-to-date Advising Portfolio, with a summary record of performance to date (grade reports, transcript, requirements completed, etc.), dates of conferences, notation of special circumstances, up-to-date information and details, etc.
- Inform and, if necessary, refer students to other institutional resources when academic, attitudinal, attendance, or other personal problems require intervention by other professionals. (e.g., Office of Academic Development, Academic Services, Personal Counseling, etc.)
- Proactively contact and be available for student advisees on a regular basis. Office hours should be posted on the advisor's office door and preferably given to the advisee early in the semester. Advisors should plan for extended hours during pre-registration advising.
- Consult regularly with faculty colleagues in order to have up-to-date information. For career and graduate school options, advisors should refer advisees to the Career Development Center when more information is needed.

Characteristics of Effective Advisors

Advisors who possess the following characteristics are most successful with students:

- interested in advising
- demonstrates a concerned and caring attitude toward advisees
- exhibits effective interpersonal and communication skills
- available to advisees
- frequent contact with advisees
- intrusive behavior with advisees
- knowledgeable of institutional regulations, policies, offerings, and procedures
- monitors student progress
- uses appropriate information sources and refers when necessary
- engages in developmental advising versus simply course scheduling

Advisee Responsibilities

The advisee is an equal partner in the advising process. As an advisee you are ultimately responsible for your educational choices and decisions. You are expected to:

- Clarify personal values, abilities, interests, and goals for academics and life.
- Contact and schedule regular appointments with your advisor each semester as required or when in need of assistance
- Prepare for advising sessions and bring appropriate resources or materials. You are to maintain your own Advising Portfolio including your educational plan and other details.
- Come prepared to your registration advising session with a planned schedule for the forthcoming semester.
- Become knowledgeable and adhere to institutional policies, procedures, and requirements.
- Access and use for academic updates, information updating, registration, and other purposes.
- Accept final responsibility for all decisions made and your graduation requirements.
